The Chimes-

On Tuesday evening last the chime of bells recently imported from Maneely's factory, in Troy, N. Y., for Kaumakapili Church, were tested publicly by Mr. Wray Taylor. The bells had only been placed in position and no proper test had been made previous to that pight. Mr. Taylor first rangers the seeks proper test had been made previous to that night. Mr. Taylor first ran over the scale, and then branched off into popular airs, some of which were rendered satisfactorily while others showed marked defects, which was probably owing to the chime not being properly adjusted. The bells will undergo a further overhauling and filing, which will probably render them more in harmony. As it was, the playing was creditable all through it was, the playing was creditable all through and some of the airs were well executed, and Mr. Taylor is to be credited with the honor of having rang the first chime of bells in the Hawaiian Islands. A large assemblage gathered to hear the music, and the native portion particularly were highly pleased with Appealed in Vain. W. H. Vance, who appealed to the Supreme Court from the Police Court, where he had been sentenced to four months' imprisonment and $100 fine for assault with a pistol on E. C. Marden, was found guilty by a jury and his sentence increased. In passing sentence His Honor, Mr. Justice McCully, said:

"You have been convicted of the offense of an assault with a dangerous weapon, a pistol. The views that I am about to express are con-curred in by all the judges. We regard the offense of pistol shooting as highly criminal. It is true that the practice has become very common in many of the American States. There the habit of carrying weapons is common, although unlawful, and the use of them is frequent. This has not been the case in this Kingdom, and the court will endeaver to treat instances of it when they occur in a way to discourage the practice. The direct ten-dency of a man's carrying a pistol is to cause other men to carry pistols, until, if permitted, the practice becomes general. Pistols being carried are then used. It comes upon the mere motion of the hand; a man is shot down in alleged self-defense. That is a barbarous condition of things and not the condition of a country governed by law. In your case the aim was a close one, and Marden narrowly escaped wounds or death. There was certainly no justification for it, and no provocation. You have brought your case to this court by your appeal after a proper conviction and a moderate sentence. You had no reasonable defense to make here. Everything was admitted here to support the charge. The court intends generally to mark appeals taken without reason, and where the penalty has been light, by an increase of the penalty. But the main reason for the increase which the court is about to give is that it considers the former penalty as too light for the offense. Instead of the four months' impris-onment the court now imposes six months. It reduces the fine from $100 to $50, as the court does not desire to punish such an offense so much by fine as by imprisonment.'

Habeas Corpus Again-Another "have his careass" case, as the immortal Mr. Weller, Sr., would call it, was argued before the Chief Justice on Thursday. The contention of Mr. W. R. Castle was that: 1st. That An Gee and Pack Wai have recently arrived in the Hawaiian King-dom on the steamer Australia on the 5th inst,; that they are now detained by a per-son or persons unknown to them, whose name they are informed is C. B. Reynolds; that they are detained at the Quarantine Station in Honoluiu. 2d. That they are not aware of the cause of their detention, no cause having been assigned to them. 3d. That such detention is not on account of any legal process, and that the same is without warrant of law. 4. Wherefore petitioners pray that a writ of habeas corpus may issue out of this honorable Court directed to said Reynolds or other persons detaining them, and that they may be discharged from such detention

To this C. B. Reynolds made the following The return of C. B. Reynolds, the defendant, to the writ of habeas corpus directed to him, respectfully submits that said An Yee and Pack Wai were heretofore held by him at the Quarantine Grounds, as an agent of the Board of Health, by order of said Board, for the reason that they, together with their baggage, were considered to be dangerous to the public health, and that hav-ing been duly inspected and the usual time for their release having expired, he now brings them before the Court with the writ, as therein he is commanded, with the re-quest and prayer that for the aforesaid rea-sons the said An Yee and Pack Wai may be discharged.

The Attorney General said that the petitioners were not now in custody of the respondent; that they and their baggage, being considered dangerous to the public health, were held by the Board of Health, and that the period for holding them has now lapsed.

Mr. Castle claimed that the petitioners had been wrongfully held; that there was no law authorized the contract the contract that the petitioners had been wrongfully held; that there was no law authorizing the Government to detain turn, considers that no opinion on the merits of the case is necessary, and orders the petitioners discharged, respondent to pay coats.

The Attorney General said that the peti-

The prisoner Manuel Brito, who was convicted in the Police Court of having opium in possession was, on appeal to the Supreme Court, set free on Monday, the court considering that the man could not be held under the law. The court will give its reasons later, in writing. This practically breaks the option

Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer, who leave by the Australia to-day, intend to go to New Orleans where Mr. Schaefer will visit his brother whom he has not seen for thirty years, and who has been resident in that city for that time. After a stay in the Crescent City for some weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer will proceed to Europe, either via New York or direct from New Orleans. They will return here in the Fall. Their many friends wish them bon royage.

The Opium Law. Before the full bench on Saturday, Mr. Dare argued the appeal of Young Tang, sentenced to $1,000 fine and two years' imprisonment for having opinm in possession with-out a license. The points taken were (1) that there was not sufficient evidence pre-sented in the lower Court, and that the pro-visions of the act do not warrant such a sentence; (2) that the law itself cannot be con-strued by any Court, and is therefore void;

(3) the law is unconstitutional.

Mr. Dare made an able argument, and was replied to by Hon. Paul Neumann on behalf of the Crown, who owned the law to be am-biguous, and did not consider the prisoner could be held under Section 3, but the law contained enough to show the intention of the Legislature.

Easter Sunday Large congregations attended at all the churches yesterday. The usual services were held at St. Andrews. There were two celebrations of Communion, at 6:30 by the Bishop of Honolulu and at 7:30 by the Rev. George Wallace. At the former service their Majesties were present. At the 9:30 service a number of sailors from H. B. M. S. Caroline number of sailors from H. B. M. S. Caroline were present. At the 11:15 service the music was a special feature, and an excellent Easter anthem, "Christ our passover," was admirably sung, Mr. T. May's tenor solo and Mr. Starkey's bass being specially good. Rev. Geo. Wallace preached the sermon. The church was prettily decorated with flowers and ferns. After morning service Communion service was again celebrated.

At Fort street the Easter praise service was held in the evening, there being a crowded congregation. The decorations were very fine, some of the flower pieces being most graceful and rich. A heart of roses, shading from blood red to white, was specially striking. The musical programme was under the direction of Mr. Yarndley, and was finely rendered. The services were conducted by Rev. C. M. Hyde. L. Smith, E. Bailey and W. B. Oleson, the latter of whom preached the

The following news relating to the Ha-waiian Embassy at Samoa is from the Samoan correspondent of the New Zenland Herald and is published in its issue of March 10th. It would seem that the Embassy is following out the principles laid down home of "free gin," and debauching natives there, in the face of a law prohibit-ing the sale of intoxicants to the Samoans. If this is the sole object of the mission to Samoa, the sooner an indignant populace exterminates this barpacle the better, not only for themselves but for the world at large: "There are a number of buildings being erected now in the municipality. Two are hotels and the rest stores. The Hawaiian Embassy is building a large saloon in front of the residence, in which to entertain their guests. On the 17th instant a large entertainment was given to Samoan chiefs by the Embassy. A large number of bottles, some partly filled and some unopened, left an im-pression to passers by the next morning that a quantity of liquor was wasted. The jollity continued nearly all night, during which time the policemen were hard at work keeping order. It is against the law to supply infoxicating drinks to Samoans, but somehow or other these Hawaiian gentry manage to evade it, and one told a policeman, when carrying out his duty in preventing alls. carrying out his duty in preventing a dis-turbance on the main road, not to interfere with a certain person as he was under the Hawaiian flag. Whatever may be the mo-tives of the Hawaiian Government in sending ambassadors here, actions setting the present administration at defiance cannot be met with approval."

Major Hendershot's Entertainment On Saturday evening Major Hendershot, better known as the "Drummer Boy of the Rappahannock," made his first appearance before a Honolula audience at the Opera House. The "Drummer Boy" was ably assisted by well-known local talent, and a good programme was presented. Commander R. W. Laine introduced the Major to the andience in a humorous little speech, con-cluding by presenting him with a pair of gold-mounted kon drum sticks, the latter replying with the promise that he should dur ing life use these with credit to the donors and the "old flag."

The entertainment commenced with the "Reciprocity March," by the Hawaiian band, followed by Drum Major W. C. King, who played a reveille on the drum, which called forth Major Ashford, Capt. Hebbard and a selected squad of sixteen men of the Hono lulu Rifles, which done credit to the corps-The "Drummer Boy" then took up his Greeley drum and fairly made it talk, go from the highest to the lowest notes with an ease and grace which done him great credit and brought the house down with an encore.

The Major responded with "Marching Through Georgia."

Miss A. C. Austin sang a londly applauded solo, while Miss Hopper played the accompaniment. The Major gave "Life on the Ocean Wave," using the Hawaiian drum sticks for the first time, which was enthusiastically cheered. The medley, "Echoes of the Night," was executed by the band, assisted by Mr. Michiels with a cornet solo the latter being encored, which was responded to, and Mr. Berger played the accompaniment on the piano.

The third number of the Major's was Gen. The third number of the Major's was Gen.
Phil. Sheridan's favorite march, which was executed in a master'— lanner. The band achieved fresh laurely frough addition of a saxophone quarter, dis was sfollowed by the Major with a tating locomotic through cutting a training locomotic through cutting for the distribution of applications. The bridges, etc., which was received the favored the audience with a training locomotic through cutting the first program of application.

Mrs. E. R. then favored the audience with a lALL one style, which greatly pleased all by as lady's clear enunciation of a popular an patriotic piece.

The band favored the audience with some patriotic airs. Major Hendershot and his son, with drum and fifte, then gave the "Honolala Rifles Quickstep," which was received with great celat, concluding with an imitation, on the drum, of a battle, introducing picket firthe drum, of a battle, introducing picket fir-ing, rattle of musketre, the roar of cannon, atc., which concluded the evening's enter-
